About Strunal Schönbach

Strunal Schönbach is a traditional European producer of musical string instruments that builds on local craftsmanship dating back more than three centuries. The factory is located in the picturesque town of Luby, originally called Schönbach, in the western part of the Czech Republic.

We have been offering traditional hand-made stringed instruments from the best European resonance wood for many decades. Thanks to our careful approach, these instruments are of premium quality and sound. We are one of the most significant ambassadors of Czech handcraft and precision manufacturing.

Petra Bezruce 730, Luby u Chebu, Czech Republic

Professional musicians regularly test and play our instruments, making sure they satisfy the needs of all our customers – from beginners and intermediate students, to professional artists. We have witnessed our instruments literally changing people's lives over the years, and we couldn't be happier to welcome you to that community – the community of musicians.

Series of instruments

Talent

Ideal entry-level instruments for beginners and intermediate musicians. They are popular in many music schools throughout the world. These instruments offer standard quality and good tone. They improve the learning process of beginners. Easy tuning and good tone are superior to cheap musical instruments of lesser quality offered at the same market segment. This fact dramatically influences students in their development and learning process.

Academy

These instruments are especially chosen by advanced musicians. They offer higher quality of used material, coupled with better sound. In this segment, the quality of our instruments has received great recognition all over the world.

Maestro

Excellent musical instruments with long tradition of production and proven manufacturing practices. They offer their users the highest standard of quality material and perfect sound. These instruments are designated for advanced students, semi-professionals and professionals.

All our instruments are produced in the Czech Republic and from European components.

All wood used for our instrument has been seasoned for at least several years.
